SEMINAR TO COMMEMORATE THE 134TH BIRTH ANNIVERSARY OF DR. B.R. AMBEDKAR.

Date : 19.04.2025

Venue : Nandha Siddha Medical College and Hospital

To commemorate the 134th birth anniversary of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, a seminar was organized at Nandha Siddha Medical College and Hospital. The seminar was delivered by NSS volunteer of our college, who eloquently spoke about the life, vision, and contributions of Dr. Ambedkar towards the upliftment of society and the framing of the Indian Constitution.

NSS volunteer of our college also highlighted Dr. Ambedkar's journey from social struggle to becoming the chief architect of the Indian Constitution. He elaborated on Dr. Ambedkar's contributions to social justice, education, equality, and human rights, especially for the marginalized communities. The session shed light on Ambedkar's emphasis on education as a tool for empowerment and his famous message: "Educate, Agitate, Organize." He also encouraged students to follow Ambedkar's values in their professional and personal lives, particularly in the medical field where compassion and equality are fundamental.
